

Hello Policy Maker!

An online film festival and discussion salon

Hello Policy Maker! has two main goals:

- 1.) To provide basic political information by state, branch and issue.
- 2.) To be a visual-based discussion salon for individuals to submit videos of political questions and citizen-initiated video interviews with policy makers for the overall goal of stimulating national political discussion.

This website seeks to engage and revitalize representative democracy by encouraging Americans to ask difficult questions and create videos that increase transparency by being online, in a place where others across the country can access them. Submit your video!
